What is the difference between Honors, Adv Placement and Dual Credit

- Honors = one level above the regular course, one weighted point in GPA, no college credit
- AP = College Board course, one weighted point in the GPA, test in May and a certain score earned to either earn college credit or be exempt from that course in college, not all colleges accept AP scores
- Dual Credit = WCC course taught by one of our certified teachers, can be weighted in some cases, the course goes on a transcript from WCC and you transfer it to your school of choice, accept by most institutions (www.transferology.com), most courses cost the price of the transcript (not full WCC tuition)
