

Exceptional Parents of Exceptional Children (EPEC 308) invites you to a viewing and discussion of the documentary

Being You

In Being You, you'll see the three roadtrippers travel across the United States, meeting with diverse leaders who also have learning and attention issues. Their insightful conversations, shared experiences, and life lessons open the door to new discussions about the challenges of living with learning and attention issues, and ways to help young people reach their potential.
