PARENT INFORMATION NIGHT –
Professor Dr. Michele Kane Presents:
“Encouraging Creativity at Home and School”

PTAG 308 is proud to present “Parent Information Night” with Dr. Michele Kane, professor of Gifted Education at Northeastern Illinois University.

Dr. Kane will present: “Encouraging Creativity at Home and School” which includes:

- Ways to encourage a child’s passions and how to support them at home and at school.
- Finding ways to enhance the creative process by providing an example of how that can be done.
- Relevant aspects of curriculum to ensure that parents understand that gifted and talented children need balance.

This event will take place:

- Friday, May 12th at 7 -9 PM
- Oswego East High School, Auditorium, 1525 Harvey Road, Oswego, IL 60543

Please RSVP via Eventbrite: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/parent-info-night-drmichele-kane-encouraging-creativity-at-home-and-school-tickets-34054716574#>

(RSVPs are recommended, but not required)

This is a unique opportunity to learn more from an expert in the field, so you’ll gain an understanding about your child’s giftedness and how to best support him/her for success!

Dr. Kane is a Professor in the department of Counseling and Special Education at Northeastern Illinois University in Chicago where she coordinates the Master of Arts in Gifted Education Program. She has an Ed.D., Loyola University – Chicago, 2006, M.A., Northeastern Illinois University, 1999 and M.A., Roosevelt University, 1982. Michele currently serves on the Parent Editorial and Content Advisory Board for the National Association for Gifted Children, is past-president of the Illinois Association for Gifted Children, and is a contributing author to Living with Intensity, Off the Charts: Asynchrony and the Gifted Child, and Accelerating and Extending Literacy for Diverse Students.
